Join us on an excursion that is off the beaten path, to places where the call of the wild is clearest. We are the only outfitter permitted to operate overnight kayaking trips on pristine Jackson Lake, ensuring a distinctive and peaceful experience far away from the everyday crowds of Grand Teton National Park. O.A.R.S. sea kayaking excursions are multi-faceted outdoor adventures in full view of the magnificent Tetons. Paddling your kayak through a morning mist with the sun rising behind you, spotting wildlife in grassy meadows and forest glens, camping at our secluded sites on Grassy Island or at Spalding Bay— where we're more likely to see a bald eagle or a moose than another human being – and hiking to sparkling waterfalls and rushing creeks...this trip thoroughly captures the wilderness splendor of Wyoming's pristine backcountry. This is an ideal trip for families!

AWARD-WINNING NATURE-BASED ADVENTURES SINCE 1969

O.A.R.S. has been in business for over 40 years and that is no accident. Great trips on some of the world's best rivers and coastlines are the recipe for this success. Always focused on our clients and their vacations, it is our genuine belief that river trips and nature-based adventures are extremely valuable life experiences. With that as our foundation, we have committed ourselves over the years to providing the best trips available, always with an eye on improvement.

BOAT TYPE - see photos at www.oars.com/our_adventures/river_ratings.html

- Sea Kayak—Made for one or two people, these boats offer hands-on activity and the chance to peacefully explore lakeshores and coastlines. These quiet crafts are ideal for close observation of wildlife in even the shallowest inlets, and are highly responsive and easily maneuverable.
- A motorized raft is used as a support boat on the lake.
- Children as young as 4 may accompany the trip. Due to kayak design and the pace of our trips we must restrict requests for single kayaks to those with a height of 4'11" or taller, and 14 years or older. Previous paddling experience is also suggested. Smaller children must be in a double kayak with an adult or older sibling.

Sample Itinerary

We pride ourselves in running a relaxed and always flexible schedule. Every trip is different depending upon the group, other trips on the water and sometimes the weather. The following is a sample of what your trip might be like. Please keep in mind that due to the nature of adventure travel, times, itineraries and daily activities are subject to change.

- On the morning of your trip, we'll gather at the Signal Mountain Public Boat Ramp, located inside Grand Teton National Park. Here you meet your guides and the others on your trip—all sharing in excited expectation of what's to come. You will also be given your waterproof bags, where you will then pack your gear.
- After your guide presents a thorough demonstration on kayaking techniques, and safety procedures, we'll be on our way. Your personal gear will be safely stowed in our motorized snout rig. Depending on water and weather conditions, we will board sleek one- or two-person touring kayaks en route to our base camp. The motorized craft will act as a support boat—supplying lunch and carrying the group's gear. As we move across the lake we stop periodically to relax, have a bite to eat and revel beneath the towering peaks of the Teton Range. It is seven miles to our secluded campsite on Grassy Island or to Spalding Bay, a perfect jumping off point for the adventures ahead.
- Spend the afternoon however you choose: finish your novel, paint a sunset or pull in a cutthroat trout worthy of tall tales. A guide will lead short paddles on the lake and perhaps to the Moran Canyon area on shore. Here we may hike up a rushing creek to spectacular waterfalls and overlooks of the lake, all in the shadow of majestic Mt. Moran.
- You'll probably find that paddling can inspire quite an appetite - and dinnertime comes none too soon. Your tastes may be less discriminating when eating in a wilderness setting, but ours are not. The menus we serve will surprise you with their diversity, quality and presentation.
- Our evenings in camp are as magical as our days, and after dinner we might enjoy a moonlight paddle, or perhaps a bright and cheery campfire, where we'll gather for conversation stories, and laughter. Fall asleep under the stars of the wide Wyoming sky, content in the knowledge that it is a rest well earned.
- We're sure you'll agree that the more time you spend on Jackson Lake, the more comprehensive your experience will be. Two days will give you time to sample all the activities that this tranquil and rich wilderness area has to offer. Countless quiet inlets and miles of shoreline beg to be explored; perhaps we'll encounter a moose drinking from the shallows, an eagle perched in a nearby aspen, or a family of deer quietly foraging in the woods as we glide past the shore in our silent kayaks. There are hiking trails to explore, and the beautiful lake constantly beckons us to swim or fish in its sapphire waters.

- Each morning begins with a scrumptious breakfast to send us off on our day's adventures. On the last day of our trip we load up early for our return trip to Signal Mountain Public Boat Ramp. We'll return to our vehicles at approximately 9:30 AM. (Please note: this trip ends in the morning of Day 3)
